THE NEIGHBORS; a story of Every Day Life. By FRED RINA BREMER. Translated from the Swedish, by MAR Howitt. James M. Campbell, Philadelphia.

Three American Editions of this work have already been published, and yet a year has not clapsed since its first appearance. The first was that of Mr. Winchester, which though the best adapted to attain a general circulation was the least worthy of a book which every one will desire to preserve in his library. This of Mr. Campbell, though in pamphlet form, is neatly printed and published in commendable style. The work itself has been received with unqualified commendation. The tale is truly one of every day life and wins attention by its simple and truthful details of those slight incidents and reflections which, though they may escape general observation, form the main portion of life's actual experience. But a still higher recommendation is the pure and healthful tone of the book; it teaches the superionty of moral and intellectual pleasures, and the dignity and happiness of a screne and virtuous life. It cannot be read without profit as well as delight; and we trust that its excellent lessons will be instilled into the hearts of many thousands throughout the land.

THE NEW-YORK THEMIS, a Journal of Jurisprudence and Judicature," is announced to appear soon in this city, to be published in semimonthly numbers of 48 pages each, and devoted to the exposition of the science and the improve- who may be found levying duties on Chinese ment of the art of Jurisprudence. Two-thirds of its pages will be statedly filled with essays on Legal Education, reform of legal procedure, forensic speaking, sketches of eminent lawyers, critical notices of law publications, &c., including trans. lations from the law periodicals of Germany and France, as well as selections from those of Great Britain. The remainder of the work will be devoted to a compendium of important cases and decisions.-We hear with pleasure that the ablest Jurists of this City warmly approve of this work a like agreement touching English criminals. and will contribute to its pages. This ought to ensure its success.

Tr Alison's Europe, in the handsome periodical edition of the Harpers, has reached its seventh number, which is published to-day. One number more will complete the first two volumes -half the work. We are glad to learn that this great history has thus attained a circulation of unexampled extent. It reaches every part of the country and is every where read with the greatest interest and pleasure. Its faults are frequent, but easily detected; while its merits, in spite of its faults, make it one of the most important works of the present age.

THE PULPIT: Biographical Sketches of the Most Popular London Preachers: By James Grant, author of 'The Great Metropolis,' 'Ran-though with so small a force, determined to board dom Recollections,' &c.," has just been published her, and after four hours' chase-tugging at the in paper covers (416 pages) for 371 cents by D. oars under a broiling sun—the boats got along side. Appleton, 200 Broadway. The author is an in- The vessel in the mean time used every effort curable dunce, but he is very industrious, and to escape. As the boats advanced, she endeavoften renders his books very amusing by his patient collection of anecdotes, etc. We presume this book is more agreeable reading than if a man of sense had written it.

THE HAND-BOOK OF NEEDLE-WORK - Messrs. Wiley and Putnam have just published a very neat edition of this beautiful work, in somewhat cheaper binding than their former edition. It is even now one of the handsomest books of the scason, and is an indispensable companion of long guns, loaded with cannister shot, and had a ladies who take delight in the pastime of Em. complement of 36 men. The prisoners were put broidery. It is filled with neat illustrations and is beautifully printed.

last November. There was insurance to the same amount at the National and American offices. The building was ournt about 1 o'clock in the morning, and no person can account for the fire, the foreman (who slept on the premises) having gone to bed about half past 9, when all was safe, and he was aroused by the cry of the watchman. The books and papers were saved. The defendant insured $4000 on manery and $2000 on stock, and it is contended that plaintiff has made charges for loss which was not contemplated by the policy. The case will be resumed this forenoon.

Grand Larcent.—Joseph Mundy, John Wilkins, and George Wellesley, were tried for grand larceny, in stealing from the pocket of Bishop Griswold in October last, while in the steamer Rhode Island. The Bishop is since deceased.

The indictment stated that the money was taken from Archibald V. Griswold, whereas the name was Alexander V. Griswold. This error proved fatal to the indictment, and the accused were found not guilty.

The case of Ivers Barton indicted for a larceny was postponed until the next week.

Another Defective Indictment.-John M. Shaw alias Isaac Adams, was placed upon trial for having stolen about $300 from Horatio N. Otis, in February last. The indictment charged it as the property of Horation Otis. The accused, of course, was found not guilty, and the complain-

PUBLIC NOTICE.

An article headed 'To the Public has recently appeared in several of the City papers, signed 'Thomas Turner,' relative to a cure effected upon him by Bristol's Sarsaparilla, and denying a statement made public in the prints previously, that he was cured by Sand's Sarsaparilla; and whereas my name is was cured by Sand's Sussignants, and wareless in loade to brought before the public in each of these articles, I feel it my duty to make the following statement of facts as far as 1 am concerned. About the last of July or first of August, 1842. Mrs. Turner, the wife of 'Thomas Turner,' called on me, requesting a certificate from me that they were needy, and proper persons to receive the beneficence of Messrs. Sands, as they had advertised that "the poor would be furnished with their Sarsaparilla by a recommendation from either the Alderman of the Ward in which they live, or the minister of the Church where they were attendants." I freely wrote such certificate, upon which I was subsequently informed that the medicine had been obtained. On the 23d of August Mrs. Tur-ner called on me again, wishing me to write a certificate, upon which I was subsequently informed that the medicine had been obtained. On the 23d of August Mrs. Turner called on me again, wishing me to write a certificate for them of the cure that had been effected by Sands's Sarsaparilla upon her private watchman Harley, for stealing salted mackerel from a barrel corner of Water street and Old slip, and committed husband. I wrote such certificate, embracing two facts as I supposed; the one of the disease with which he had been affected, and the other of the cure that had been made. She then said that her husband had taken the Sarsaparilla about three weeks; that his pans had all left him, and he had cone to his work; and that he was very thankful for the cure that had been effected. On the evening of the 10th of October I called at Mr. Turner's residence, and had a few minutes' conversation with him in relation to his health; he told me that it was very good. I inquired of him relative to the effects of Sands's Sursaparilla upon him; when he told me that all he wanted was more strength, and that with this exception the Sarsaparilla had cared him. Such are the facts in the case; and I must confess, I felt utterly astonished at the appearance husband. I wrote such certificate, embracing two facts as I woman named Susan Jones stole silk goods worth $47 from the store of George A. Hearn; on the 15th of the same month she stole about $51 worth of silks from the same store, and on the 13th she stole $70 worth from the store of Messrs. A. Sarsaparilla had cured him. Such are the lacts in the case, and I must confess, I felt utterly astonished at the appearance of the article in several papers denying the statement which had been made to me, and which I fully believed, as the said Thomar Turner had testified to a similar statement before the Mayor of this City.

Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge.—Some medicines warranted to "destroy worms in children," are very well calculated to destroy the children too. This is not the case with Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge. It does not contain a single ingredient which can harm the most delicate infant, and yet it expels worms from the system with a facility and certainty perfectly astonishing. Nor is this its only sanative property; it is a fine stomachic, and in remittant and intermittant levers has been administered with most gratifying results. Obstinate cases of piles have yielded to its influence, and its tonic qualities render it an excellent medicine in the convalescent stage of all diseases. It is exceedingly pleasant to the taste.
